

Frequently Asked Questions

Is University of Phoenix an online university only?

Many people think of University of Phoenix as only an online university, but on-campus programs are a major part of our offerings. You can attend classes at one of our local campus locations or learning centers throughout the country. Whether you take classes online or at a campus location near you, you'll receive the same high-quality education.

Is University of Phoenix an accredited university?

Yes. We hold the same institutional accreditation as many top universities. We have been accredited since 1978 by The Higher Learning Commission (ncahlc.org) and are a member of the North Central Association.

What type of degree programs does University of Phoenix offer?

We offer degree programs from the associate to doctoral level in a range of high-demand fields, including education, business and technology.* Our degree programs are designed in collaboration with academic and industry professionals to ensure quality, relevance and rigor.

Does University of Phoenix offer Continuing Teacher Education courses?

University of Phoenix offers Continuing Education courses taught by College of Education faculty - experienced P-12 educators who hold master's and doctoral degrees. Our Continuing Education courses let you earn the continuing education credits you need for potential recertification, endorsements or professional growth.

Visit
phoenix.edu/programs/continuing-education/education.html
to view our Continuing Education offerings.

How long does it take to complete a degree?

Our students typically complete their undergraduate degree in four years or less, depending on the number of previously earned and applicable credits. Your Enrollment Advisor will be able to offer you a more accurate estimate of the time required to complete a specific degree program. University of Phoenix offers continuous enrollment, meaning you can enroll year-round. Many courses start every week.

What financial benefits are available to me as a Wakulla County School District teacher or staff member?

All Wakulla County School District teachers and staff are eligible for a special 10% tuition reduction when enrolling in any degree program, certificate program or Continuing Education course at University of Phoenix.

What if I am already a University of Phoenix student? Are the same benefits available to me?

Absolutely. If you are currently a University of Phoenix student you can easily identify yourself using the University of Phoenix eCampus site. To receive the tuition reduction, just log into eCampus, select the Account tab, and click on the Employer/Tribal Academic Partnership Program link. Select Wakulla County School Board (of FL) and answer the questions.

Where can I get more information?

If you have any questions, call 866.354.1800 or visit phoenix.edu/wakullaprek-12 for more information.

* While widely available, not all programs are available in all locations or in both online and on-campus formats. Please check with a University Enrollment Advisor.

 Continuing Education Units (CEUs) cannot be converted into academic credit. It is the student's responsibility to confirm whether or not CEUs earned at University of Phoenix will be accepted by employers and/or applicable licensing agencies. While widely available, not all Continuing Education Unit coursework is available in all states, or in both the online and on-campus formats. Please check with a University Enrollment Advisor.

Use of the words partner or partnership is not intended to create a legal partnership. University of Phoenix is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission and is a member of the North Central Association (ncahlc.org). The University's Central Administration is located at 1625 W. Fountainhead Pkwy., Tempe, AZ 85282. Online Campus: 3157 E. Elwood St., Phoenix, AZ 85034. While widely available, not all programs are available in all locations or in both online and on-campus formats. Please check with a University Enrollment Advisor.
© 2012 University of Phoenix, Inc. All rights reserved.